In the last painting people are kneeling on the ground picking small red berries.

These berries are called cranberries. Have you ever eaten cranberries? They are super sour and people like to eat them on Thanksgiving. Check the season you think it is in the painting and look closely for clues. I think it is...

- Summer
- Winter

be a secret Art Agent

AT THE TIMKEN!

A Family Museum Adventure for children ages 5-12 and their adult companions

Keep in mind

to complete this mission you will have to look very closely at the art and observe even the smallest details.

Remember...

Good art agents don't leave fingerprints because the natural oils on your fingers can stain and damage the surfaces. Please help us preserve the works of art by not touching them!

fire

Walk around the museum to see if you can find a painting with a fire in it. The man in this painting is a very special person. His name is Saint Anthony Abbot. He was a good man but every night he dreamed of beasts and monsters that were trying to get him. In this painting, the terrible beasts are shown on the dark side.

Have you spotted the little figure with the red hoodie reading a book? His body reminds us of a monkey but his face looks like a human. Write down what his name could be:

name:

Next, find a painting of a boy crying. Can you see the tear that has dripped onto his chest? The boy is crying because he ran away from home and has now come back to ask his father for forgiveness. What might he be saying to his father and what do you think his father will respond? Put their conversation in speech bubbles:

tears

Look around the galleries to see if you can find the biggest painting in the museum. It has a cute little dog in it. The dog belongs to the man and woman who are seated on the floor in a garden. What is the man doing?

- He is playing cards
- He is putting flowers into the hair of the woman
- He is dancing

still life

You are doing great! The next painting you have to find depicts a plate with fish and other things on a table. This painting is called a Still Life because everything is still and nothing is moving. What shapes can you find? Draw your answers here:

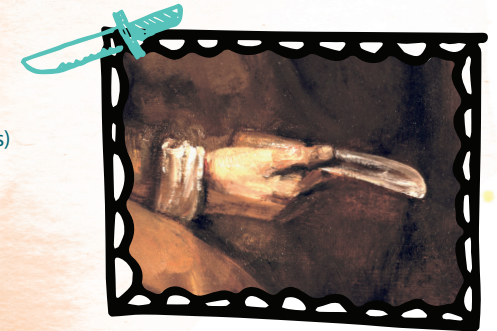

5

Next, find a painting of an old man holding a knife.

The painter who created this artwork is called Rembrandt. He is one of the most famous artists in the world. The knife is called an attribute. It's a clue to tell us that he is Saint Bartholomew who was killed by a knife. What kind of a painting do you think this is? Check the right answer:

- Narrative (tells a story)
- Portrait (shows a person)
- Landscape (shows the outdoors)
- Still Life (shows things such as plates, bowls, fruits or flowers)
